

Deborah Spearman, Vice President of Human Resources

Debbie Spearman's career in the field of Human Resources has spanned over 25 years – the last six of which being with NuVox. In her current role she oversees employee relations, employment processes, payroll, benefits, and salary administration, policy development and administration and governmental compliance and management consultation. She also manages facilities and real estate functions.

Prior to working for NuVox, Debbie spent 13 years as HR manager for KEMET Electronics in Greenville, SC. She also held administrative and staff human resources positions in logistics and technologies firms.

Education

Bachelor of Science, University of South Carolina